MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS PLAY TREBUCHET LINEUPS OF CLUBS

No Less Than Eight Teams, Four in American and Four in National, Will Be Gone Over and Strengthened at the Close of the Present Season According to Dope; Meyers and Mowrey Are Released.

By JACK VELOCK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—No less than eight major league ball clubs will be rebuilt before the campaign of 1928 is opened, provided the majors continue to play ball next year.

Four of these clubs are in the National league and four in the American. The most sweeping changes in the National will be made by Manager Wilbert Robinson, who is tearing his champion Dodgers and George Stallings, the scrappy pilot of the Braves, whose axe has been mightily busy with the weak cogs of his erstwhile championship machine.

The recent release of Chief Meyers and Mike Mowrey by Brooklyn did not come as a surprise. It was predicted weeks beforehand, and it gave Louis Wilbert a chance to try out several youngsters and comb the bushes for more.

At Boston George Stallings started wrecking his club at an early date. He did this to gain time in looking over recruit players, and the personnel of the Braves is to be thoroughly and systematically renovated before another training season rolls around.

Pittsburgh recently announced a wholesale purchase of minor league players, for the Pirates are to be rebuilt from scratch by manager L. B. Coyne.

Manager Billy Meacham's fast team from hospital corps No. 2 of the national guard will receive its first real test of the season Saturday afternoon at Rio Grande park. Little Arthur Bie, formerly of the Braves, or Pittman, one time twirler of the Rustic team of the Commercial league, will start the game for the hospital club, while either Paul Fisher or Johnny Mulcahy will do the preliminary mound duty for the picked team.

Chicago White Sox, a full five games in the lead, are going to be hard to catch in the future unless the Red Sox show something within the next few days. Of course there remains quite a few more games to be played but a five game margin is not one to be held lightly, and the Sox club will have to show "some speed" to express it in the vernacular of the diamond game. If they intend to be at the front and meet the Giants for the world's championship, Thursday afternoon the Sox increased their lead at the expense of the Browns, while the Red Sox claimed a tie game. There is one thing certain, the White Sox have never lost a chance to improve their lead by the Tinker have shot their bolts as major leaguers and are slated for the discards.

There will also be openings for minor league players on at least four American league teams.

The recent purchase of three players by the Yankees from Baltimore indicates that Cleveland has a full complement of players, after a thorough trial, that the Kansas combination will not win in a pennant, strong as it is in some points.

In the meantime the St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators must undergo changes if they are to figure in the campaigns that are to come. The latter is convinced that the fusion of the old Browns with the Senators has been a complete failure, and through the St. Louis club has a number of stars and a good staff of pitchers, it is woefully weak in spots. Clark Griffith experimented with his team this season and from present indications he will continue his experiments next year.

At Philadelphia Connie Mack has suffered a hard blow as a result of the draft. Just when Mack had the foundation of a future pennant winner built along came the war flint to knock holes in his line-up, and in making such players. Now he is faced with the task of rebuilding the lanky leader of the Mackmen faces a tough problem of reconstruction.

All other major league clubs will find themselves in need of players, and a team that the draft army is called into concentration camp. Not a few players have been taken from first-division clubs already, and more will go into camp.

Both manager Meacham and secretary Coyne have a number of players to select their teams from, and each will put forth their strongest lineup. The hospital corps team will be selected from the following players: Voss, Weiss, pitcher; Cunniff, pitcher; Wingo, first base; Easton, second base; White, third base; Meacham, shortstop; Trane, centerfield; Cunningham, left field; Barker, right field. This is one of the strongest teams that could be organized in the opinion of city league managers who will select a lineup from the following to meet the soldiers:

It is probable that a number of other players will be on the ground and will be tried out by the Pass City leaguers. Certainly be a strong addition to the team, and the management of the civilian team should not overlook an opportunity to get the services of this valuable little man.
